

TRIPLE POINT PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

To develop healthy children across gender and sexuality spectrums, create strong families that are safe and welcoming of LGBTQ+ youth, build engaged communities inclusive of LGBTQ+ families, and speak and advocate for all children.

HISTORY

Children's Home Society of Washington's Triple Point program is the only specific LGBTQ+ youth programming in Clark and Walla Walla Counties, and now NCW, for middle school and high school youth. Initiated in 1996, the Triple Point program focuses on targeted support groups, individual and family counseling for LGBTQ+ youth, and trainings for adult allies and professionals. Triple Point now serves the North Central Washington area.

Children's Home Society of Washington's Triple Point Program of NCW

Children's Home Society of Washington's Triple Point of NCW is a local program for LGBTQ+ (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning, intersex) youth, 12-18 years old.

We provide a safe place where youth can make positive connections, learn about community resources, receive the support they need, as well as participate in regular meetings with other LGBTQ+ youth and group leaders.

Like-minded LGBTQ+ youth come together to talk about today's issues, tomorrow's solutions and a future without limitations. Triple Point is a support group for these young people.

TRIPLE POINT SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Support groups
- Mental health services and advocacy
- Community outreach and education on LGBTQ+-related issues
- Promoting strong families that are safe and welcoming of LGBTQ+ youth

Groups are every Tuesday, 4:30-5:30 p.m.

If you have questions, please contact:

Roxanne Cates, program supervisor: Roxanne.Cates@chs-wa.org

To sign up for Triple Point, contact:

Luz Estrada, Triple Point facilitator: Luz.Estrada@chs-wa.org

